Program Duration: 6 months, starting date Jan. 22, 2024. Application Deadline Jan. 15th.

As you enter the Train the Trainer Level 1 program, we trust that you'll continue to study and continue your striving for excellence. For those people who want to rise to the next level of mastery, to be able to effectively communicate these techniques, and to teach this work, we have set up standards for you to reach these goals.

- The first, is for you to pass the exams for the programs you want to teach.
 - In this way you will demonstrate that you have the intellectual knowledge
- We also know that there is no better measure of someone demonstrating their knowledge then to be able to communicate it to your peers.
 - This six-module program is being offered to give you the ability and opportunity to take a piece of our work to create a lecture of your own.
 - We will then fine tune it and challenge you up your game through feedback, peer review, content, and presentation evaluation.

By taking this program you will approved by Peak Potential Institute to teach the work you have presented to your peers through a variety of venues.

The goal is to measure how well you know this material and can communicate it in a clear and concise manner to others who want to learn.

We are offering you a two-step process, one, to master the work through the intellectual parameters of taking the exams and secondly, the program is going to give the skills necessary to communicate the work effectively through the online workshops and review process.

At the end of this program, you will have a personalized lecture based on the portions of the Pediatric Certificate Program that you have mastered.

You will then be able to present this program, with the endorsement of the Peak Potential Institute, to your peers.

While completing this program is not a guarantee that you will teaching directly for or with the instructors of the Peak Potential Institute, it is the first step in that process.

Cost of Program: one-time fee of $795 or 3 payments of $295
